

Your Perfect House

Sit, relax, breathe deeply and try to clear your mind. Imagine... what would your perfect house look like?

Not necessarily a realistic one or even a possible one, but some perfect place for you to live and thrive. Visualise, wonder... then write or sketch your thoughts below.

Extension:

You could design and collage a room in your perfect house. What would the walls look like? What items would you have in there? You could use various different materials such as photographs and pieces of paper or fabric to create the vibe of your perfect place.

Or you could describe how you might spend a day in your perfect house. What would you do? How would it make you feel? Who or what else might be there with you?
